About me

As a UX/UI designer, I have always placed my clients as my first priority, and I have used compassion, advocacy and critical thinking skills to meet their needs. I bring transferable skills that I believe will allow to excel in any design team. I have extraordinary problem-solving skills, I can work well under time-constraints and in a fast-paced setting, and I can collaborate well with multidisciplinary teams. By incorporating both my client-oriented background, intrinsic and essential passion for beautiful designs, I want to create products that inspire joy and excitement.
